Next steps & Wrap up

Denver Parks and Recreation is pleased to announce that the Washington Park Boat House is slated to be repaired and improved with funding from the Better Denver Bond program voted upon by Denver residents last fall. The project will include a range of repairs and improvements to better serve the uses in and around the building. Site improvements are anticipated for improved accessibility and circulation. Suitable uses for the lower floor of the Boat House will be considered in this design process.

Please join us at a public meeting to share your thoughts or concerns about the Washington Park Boat House and site. The Department of Parks and Recreation and the design consultants Andrews & Anderson - Architects and Mundus Bishop Design - Landscape Architects will present at the meeting.
