

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The East Side Mobility Plan will identify ways to improve mobility in the East Side Travel Shed, the area from I-70 to Leetsdale Drive, between Monaco Parkway and Yosemite Street. The nine-month planning effort will evaluate and make recommendations for improving vehicular, pedestrian, bicycle and transit movement in this area.

This effort is the city's first implementation of the 2008 Strategic Transportation Plan. The Strategic Transportation Plan marked a critical shift in the way the city approaches transportation planning, putting the emphasis on moving people instead of vehicles.

MOBILITY ISSUES/OPPORTUNITIES

- Restricted north/south roadway capacity
- New I-70 interchange at Central Park Blvd
- Auto safety (high accident rates)
- Unsatisfactory transit amenities (shelters, benches) in some areas
- Poor access to transit in established neighborhoods
- Missing, discontinuous or low-quality sidewalks
- Pedestrian safety on arterial streets
- Discontinuous north/south bicycle connections

GOALS OF THE EAST SIDE MOBILITY PLAN

- Identify and evaluate the effectiveness of existing transportation elements (including vehicular, pedestrian, bicycle and transit).
- Develop alternatives that may be implemented independently or in conjunction with others to improve mobility through the East Side Travel Shed.
- Identify and prioritize options that benefit/improve mobility for people travelling by vehicle, transit, foot or bicycle.
- Assess the potential positive and negative impacts of the recommendations.
