Denver’s Department of Transportation and Infrastructure (DOTI) will be making improvements along Green Valley Ranch Boulevard, between Chambers and Tower Roads, to help move more people, safely, along this two-mile stretch whether they’re walking, riding a bike, or in a car.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Construction of the new sidewalk is anticipated to begin in mid-2021. Other enhancements are still in the design phase with anticipated construction start in late 2021 to early 2022.

PROJECT ENHANCEMENTS

- Phase 1 - Sidewalks provide better pedestrian connectivity along the corridor by constructing a new 8-foot detached sidewalk to fill in the gap between Peña Boulevard and Telluride Street on the south side of Green Valley Ranch Boulevard.

- Phases 2 and 3 - Upgrading Landscaped Medians so they are raised with concrete curb to better separate travel lanes and visually narrow the roadway to help slow vehicle speeds.

- Adding a traffic signal on Green Valley Ranch Boulevard at Kittredge Street for better movement of all travel modes at the intersection.

- New Protected Bike Lanes to separate bikes from vehicles and reduce conflicts, as well as connecting people on bikes to a new bike lane east of Tower Road.

TIMELINE

Construction of the new sidewalk is anticipated to begin in mid-2021. Other enhancements are still in the design phase with anticipated construction start in late 2021 to early 2022.