WHAT IS EXPLORING

Exploring is an advanced form of co-educational, career-oriented scouting. Exploring is operated by a subsidiary company owned by the Boy Scouts of America and is very different from traditional scouting. The goal of exploring is to allow young people between 15 and 20 the opportunity to “explore” a career so that they can make educated decisions about their future.

Each explorer program focuses on a single career and is operated by a host business or agency within that career. There are explorer programs for just about any career you can think of from firefighting to accounting.

One of the most popular careers to explore is law enforcement. The Denver Police Department operates the largest law enforcement explorer post in Colorado.

BEING AN EXPLORER WITH THE DENVER POLICE DEPARTMENT

Our goal is not simply to expose our members to what a career in law enforcement is like, but to take it one step further and help those young people who do decide to go into law enforcement to prepare for their future career. Many of the traits to be a police officer such as Honor, Integrity, Discipline and Service are also character traits that lead people to be citizens and leaders even if they choose not to join the Law Enforcement career. As such many of our Explorers go on to be leaders in any field they choose to enter and are extremely successful.

Accordingly, we take our training very seriously. Every meeting is a training meeting.

New members are required to complete an Explorer Recruit Academy, which is ten all day sessions held on Saturdays. Explorers who have completed the Recruit Academy meet on Wednesday evenings for advanced training.

New members can join year-round but are expected to attend the next available Recruit Academy.

RECRUIT ACADEMY

All new explorers are required to attend the next available Recruit Academy.

The Recruit Academy takes place once a year over 13 Wednesday nights from 6:00 pm to 10:00pm. To graduate, explorers are expected to attend all sessions.

The Recruit Academy focuses on fundamental skills, knowledge and attitudes and is intended to lay the foundation for future training. Courses include personal discipline, officer safety, basic handcuffing, basic law, and so forth.

GRADUATE TRAINING

Every Wednesday night is a training meeting for explorers who have completed the Recruit Academy or who are waiting for a Recruit Academy to become available.

The graduate training program focuses on specific tasks of a law enforcement officer with a heavy focus on hands-on and practical training. In the graduate program we spend a short time in the classroom discussing the task being taught, and then set up practical exercises to reinforce what was presented in the classroom. Our most common form of practical exercise is role playing scenarios.

In a role-playing scenario, the explorers act the part of police officers responding to a simulated event. Instructors act as coaches and judges while other instructors and volunteers act as the victims, witnesses, suspects and bystanders. We make these events as realistic as we can without compromising safety.

Examples of graduate training include traffic stops, searching a building for an armed suspect, handling an in-progress school shooting, responding to a domestic dispute, conducting an investigation and so forth.

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES

As law enforcement is an industry that exists to serve the community, we are proudly involved in community service. We expect each explorer to volunteer time when they can to assist with community service events. Most of these events involve parking management for special events or fingerprinting children for the Child Find program. We are sometimes asked to help the Denver Police Department or Denver Sheriff's Department with special events such as academy graduations or community fairs. As we are an unfunded volunteer organization, we have the need to participate in fundraising efforts such as selling candy or taking on service projects for paying corporations.

RIDE ALONGS

The best training tool we have is the ride along. Explorers who have completed the Explorer Recruit Academy and who are at least 16 years of age are eligible for ride-alongs.

On a ride along, the explorer works a shift with an on-duty patrol officer, responding to radio calls and making citizen contacts. The explorer on the ride along goes wherever the officer goes and has the opportunity to observe first-hand real-life police work as it happens.

We have officers who are specially trained to take the explorers on ride-alongs. These officers are trained to ensure the explorer's safety and to act as instructors to help the explorer learn about police procedures.

CONFERENCES AND SPECIAL EVENTS

We are proud to not only be a member of the Law Enforcement Explorer Post Advisors Association of Colorado (L.E.E.P.A.A.C.), but proud to also be one of the agencies who provide the work and resources to operate L.E.E.P.A.A.C.

L.E.E.P.A.A.C. puts on a regional conference every summer for explorers. At the conference, the explorers are placed into a team which competes against other teams in at least five simulated events. The top five teams in each event win a medal.

The L.E.E.P.A.A.C. conference also presents several seminars intended to provide training in areas that might not be normally available to the explorers.

The conference is held on a college campus and explorers live on the campus during the conference.

L.E.E.P.A.A.C. also puts on special events throughout the year, ranging for social activities to multi-agency training events.

OTHER LAW ENFORCEMENT EXPLORER PROGRAMS IN THE AREA

There are a number of high-quality law enforcement explorer programs in the Denver Metro Area. Most of the larger law enforcement agencies and many of the smaller law enforcement agencies operate an explorer post.

I firmly believe that Denver provides the most comprehensive and highest quality training, but many of the other programs provide excellent training programs as well.

You can find other law enforcement explorer programs at www.leepaac.com.

WHO CAN JOIN THE DENVER POLICE EXPLORERS?

We accept both young men and young women who meet the following qualifications:

- At least 15, but not more than 20 years of age
- Active in a formal educational program
- Maintaining a GPA of 2.5 or better (or equivalent)
- Drug/Alcohol free and no previous use in the past year.
- Free of any criminal associations
- Good criminal and behavior record
- Pass a background check
- Free of repeat or significant charges related to traffic and or criminal violations.

We understand that everyone makes mistakes in life. A minor transgression in an applicant's past will probably not cause them to fail the background investigation. Patterns of criminal behavior, poor behavior in general, dishonesty or criminal associations will cause a rejection of the applicant. We will also reject applicants with serious criminal violations, recent or serious drug use, or who associate with criminals.

We will automatically reject any applicant who falsifies any part of the application, and we consider the omission of information to be a deliberate falsification. If at any point in the application process you are uncertain if you should report an event/incident, then you should report it. The event/incident may not be grounds to reject your application but failing to report it definitely will be.

JOINING THE DENVER POLICE EXPLORERS

We accept applications year-round. A blank application begins on page 9 of this document.

If you prefer to wait to join the program as a recruit class is beginning, e-mail a request to be added to our recruiting mailing list to raymond.sheridan@denvergov.org . We will send you an invitation to our next Open House. At the Open House we will present a detailed explanation and demonstration of how our program works, give applications and answer questions.

Application Process:

Interested parties looking to join our Explorer Post must follow the following procedures.

Complete the included application packet along with all supporting documentation and submit it to the Denver Police Explorer Coordinator.

Your application will be processed and if acceptable, you will be invited to visit one of our Explorer Meetings which are held on Wednesday nights. It is here that you will get a chance to view our program to see if it's something you would like to do as well as become familiar of what will be expected of you.

If you are still interested in becoming part of our post, you will then participate in a panel interview which will be scheduled, and which is also the last step of the application process. If accepted you will be notified by e-mail, phone or letter of your status and you will be expected to show-up at the next training meeting.

All meetings are held at the Denver Police Academy at 2155 N. Akron Way. A map to the academy is on page 8. Regular meetings are held from 6:00 pm to 10:00 pm every Wednesday.

Dues:

Because we are an unfunded volunteer organization, we have to charge membership dues to cover the cost of operations. It costs $90.00 at the time you join, and then $55.00 every December after that. These membership dues are subject to change, but they have remained steady for several years. We are not able to give refunds.

Required items:

We provide uniforms and training equipment, but we do expect explorers to purchase two items for themselves- a pair of BDU pants, and a pair of dress shoes or work boots.

You can buy the footwear at most discount clothing or shoe stores. The work boots or shoes must be all black, have a leather toe that can be shined and have no other colors on them. For boots- combat boots, jungle boots, SWAT boots, work boots or any similar model are fine as long as they meet the requirements above. Because explorers spend a lot of time on their feet, it is often beneficial to have boots rather than dress shoes.

BDU stands for Battle Dress Uniform and is sometimes advertised as TDU (Tactical Dress Uniform). These are military fatigue style pants. For the explorer program they must be black (no other colors showing) and have no metal on the outside (covered zippers are okay, metal hooks are not).

You can buy the BDU pants at a military surplus store, a uniform supply store, a police supply store or online emergency service supply agency. Prices range from about $15.00 to about $80.00 per pair of BDU pants.

The $15.00 price range is usually found at military surplus stores or online. The less expensive pairs are likely to wear out faster, so it is often worth the money to buy something a little above the lowest prices. Blue Star Police Supply (located at Hampden and Monaco) sells durable BDU pants in the $25.00 to $30.00 range. I have not researched other police supply store's prices or quality.

Local Police Supply stores are:
Blue Star (6485 E. Hampden Ave in Denver)
Neves (5120 N. Osage St in Denver)
The Precinct (6350 Wadsworth Bypass in Arvada)

There is a military surplus store on Broadway just north of Hampden and on Pecos at approximately 72nd Avenue. There may also be a military surplus store on Colfax Avenue in the Aurora area.

Online supply agencies include:

www.qmuniforms.com

Identification Required:

You are required to present proof of your identification when you turn in the application.

A state issued ID card or driver's license, or a government issued passport is the preferred method of proving identity. If you do not have one of these documents, please provide the best identification you have. We will also accept birth certificates accompanied with a photo ID and Social Security Number.

We need to see ID that proves your full name, your date of birth and that has a picture of you. If you cannot provide all three elements on a single form of identification, please bring more than one form which combined provide all three elements- the most common combination is a school ID and a photocopy of your birth certificate.
