Brief project description

What is inclusive play? It is a way of ensuring that play equipment and play spaces can be used by ALL people, of all ages and abilities - so that all can play, explore, and imagine together. Denver Parks & Recreation (DPR) recognizes the need to increase access to inclusive play across our park system.

The citywide Inclusive Play Strategy will also create recommendations for inclusive play equipment, and spaces, the maintenance, and training needed, as well as policy recommendations to increase access to these play areas for all.
